HAPPY HOLIDAYS!

There are so many holidays at this time of the year, so no matter how you and your family celebrate, ensure that you are safe and surrounded by loved ones.

Check on your Marine Families. If you have not had contact with a Marine Corps League member in some time, give them a call, make sure they know they have “family” at the ready to help if needed. This is a practice that should happen throughout the year, not only during December.

I personally am surrounded by my family. I have had some personal struggles and also some in my capacity as your Commandant but will always deliver help and advice with a smile, that is just my way.

Dance like nobody is watching and share a smile for no reason, it's the motto I live by!

Happy Holidays to all of my Marine Corps League family members! May God bless you and yours.

Victoria McCoy
Commandant
